5 best wedding planning apps and websites

If you've just started planning your wedding and you're already feeling overwhelmed - we've got great news for you. Technology has made almost every part of our lives much easier than before and wedding planning is no exception. Thankfully, the days of wedding binders and paper planners are over - today there are countless resources that can help you plan your wedding, find vendors, coordinate with the wedding party and even live stream your wedding to the guests who couldn't make it. Here are our top picks for the best wedding sites and apps that every bride needs to use.

WeddingWire - the top wedding platform for choosing vendors

When you're just starting to plan your wedding, it can be hard to even start putting together a list of prospective vendors, let alone choose one, especially if you live in a big city with lots of businesses. This is where WeddingWire comes in - it's a leading wedding planning platform that has a database of virtually all wedding venues and vendors in one convenient location finished off with real reviews and lots of filter options.

Carats and Cake - the best wedding inspiration website

Have you ever seen a photo of a wedding that you just loved but had no way of finding out where to buy or rent the same items for your own wedding? Well, when you use Carats and Cake to search for wedding inspiration, you will no longer have to feel the frustration again, as on this wedding planning platform you can get inspired by gorgeous wedding shots AND get all the information about vendors used and items pictured in the image.

WeddingHappy - the best wedding planning website

If you don't have the budget to hire a wedding planner or simply prefer to plan your wedding yourself, WeddingHappy can save you lots of time and stress. This easy-to-use app can easily replace the services of a personal assistant, as it's got tons of resources for wedding planning, automatic alerts for approaching deadlines, to-do lists and more. You can even invite your parents or fiance to collaborate on wedding planning together, so everyone can have access to all the information in one place.

AllSeated - the best app for creating a wedding seating chart

If you're not a visual person but you want your wedding venue to look beautiful on your big day, check out AllSeated. This app allows you to submit a photo of your wedding venue and turn it into a 3-D rendering of the room. From there, you can add and move around furniture to create your wedding day set-up and assign seats to all the guests to ensure that things look perfect on your wedding day.

Postable - the perfect app for thank-you note management

Once your wedding and honeymoon are over, you still have some wedding-related responsibilities to attend to. Yes, we're talking about thank-you notes - nobody likes to do them but they are absolutely crucial. Luckily, Postable makes things simple - all you need to do is pick a thank-you note design, type in your message and enter the recipient's address. The service then prints the note, puts it in an envelope and mails it - all that for 3 dollars plus the cost of postage.
