

Metal Banding Straps

Steel strapping makes the most reliable and durable packing material that often cannot be replaced by any other item.

Metal strapping can boast numerous advantages. The main ones include the ability to keep the initial shape after the band was used, and the persistence to the cutting effects of various sharp objects.

Metal banding can offer you countless ways to take advantage of this tool. When banding things with high tensile steel strapping one does not need any complex type of equipment. Only several reliable and simply-designed tools are needed. It's non-problematic to use metal strapping in low temperatures and any other climatic conditions.

On IDL-Packaging you will find everything essential in terms of steel strapping. Regular Duty, Heavy Duty, High Tensile Steel Strap – all in stock on our website!