

Pavlo Ocheretianyi

About me:

character - balanced, patient, goal-oriented, teachable, intellectual, attentive, analytical mind, I like to come up with ideas and their solutions. I have experience in the production of an alternative heat source - the project did not take place. I have experienced many metamorphoses that led me to a new level of personal growth. I am engaged in self-education, I study the world order, alternative geography, history, culture. I love nature and architecture.
