If we talk about the McLaren 720s review - the first thing that attracts this car is its speed. This sportscar accelerates from 0 to 60 miles in just 2.8 seconds. It's all made possible by a 711-horsepower twin-turbo V8 engine with a 7-speed automatic transmission. With such high-speed capabilities, the machine simply has to be safe, which is ensured by hydraulic power steering for more sensitivity and better feedback.

An additional feature of the model is thin glass racks that provide a circular view. This allows you to reduce the number of blind spots and, in combination with other gadgets, make the car safe for the driver and passenger.

The designers have kept the McLaren family traits to remain recognizable on the road. So, the 720S model has:

- durable carbon body with predatory aerodynamics;
- biturbo engine that can withstand high loads;
- paddle shifters;
- rear-wheel drive.

Modification 720S, in contrast to the previous version of the McLaren 650s, has a more lightweight body, strength, speed, and comfort. The body is made of carbon fiber, thanks to which it was possible to reduce weight and provide the necessary rigidity to the load-bearing elements. Thus, passengers receive maximum protection. Inside the car, there is a cabin for 2 people. The interior has pleasant aesthetics with excellent visibility. Under the hood is a small trunk for 120 liters, and a luggage compartment for 150 liters is hidden behind.

In McLaren 720s interior, a vertically oriented 7-inch touch screen awaits passengers. Behind it lies an ultra-modern multimedia system with many functions. An additional advantage is an audio system with 4 speakers and 2 USB ports. Confidence on the road will be added by the presence of an extra track data recorder with 3 external cameras. With such an arsenal, no situations on the road are terrible.

With all the spectacular appearance, there is only one drawback of the McLaren 720S - this is its low landing. However, it is inherent in all supercars and even attracts with its originality.

But where did this miracle of the automotive industry come from? It turns out this brand has a rather long history, numbering more than 50 years.

McLaren 720s History

This is an English company founded in 1963 by New Zealand race winner Bruce McLaren. Then he took part in races in Tasmania, where he achieved his first victory.

Inspired by the success, he decided to continue his career and in 1966 participated in Formula 1 races, exhibiting his MB2 car - with a 3-liter Ford engine. With it the rider finished twice in a single race and later received 5th place in the US Grand Prix. The following year, he already took 4th place, and in 1968, Bruce, on his new car, the McLaren M5A, received his first victory in the Belgian Grand Prix. After that, he created his own team with a worldwide reputation but died in 1970. But his followers did not let the brand disappear.

Unfortunately, the founder of the company did not catch the success of 1974. Then a new racer, Emerson Fittipaldi, got 1st place in Formula 1 racing. Since then, the team has been actively competing with such automotive giants as Ferrari and Lotus. This continued until 1980 when the group decided to disband. However, young manager Ron Dennis found a way to save his beloved brand and led a new project. In 1981, its developers were the first in the history of the automotive industry to create a carbon-fiber chassis on the MP4/1, which began to be used in the creation of all sportscars of our time.

After 4 years, the company introduced a new McLaren MP4/2, on which the Austrian Nick Laud won 5 races in the 1984 season, and the Frenchman Alain Prost won another 7 races. After that, Ron Dennis decided to create an automotive company that would use the developments in producing racing cars for standard motorcars. Having made this decision in 1985, he created the McLaren Group, consisting of the racing team and the McLaren Technological research center.

Since then, the company has gained worldwide fame, releasing the fastest, safest, and most beautiful cars that have received the title of supercars. One of her most famous models is the McLaren 720s MSRP which cost $200,000. But you don't have to be a millionaire to have it yours for the day. It is enough to use our services to drive it as long as you want.
