

GLOBAL CLUB OF LEADERS SPECIAL SESSION

2 July, Barcelona, Spain

Global Club of Leaders

Established in 2006, the Global Club of Leaders is a membership-based by invitation only Club: the global business, science, education, healthcare and culture networking platform. The President of GCL is Cristina Briggs, the global partnership consultant with more than 20 years of experience in international relations, business ambassador and advisor to Tony Robbins Platinum Partnership, currently CEO and Founder, New World Insight, UK.

Members of the GCL are prominent state and public figures, medical, science and educational elite, businessmen and entrepreneurs from all over the world who have succeeded in various fields of social and business life. GCL brings together like-minded peers, demonstrating competence, innovation and reliability. CEOs, senior executives of private and public sector companies, clinics and hospitals, University faculty and academics from 60 countries (Europe, Asia, Africa, and Middle East) connect together for further business development and social progress impact.

Our experts annually determine the leading specialised regional institutions of different spheres and national business leaders to be invited to enter the club.

Concept

Traditional summer session of The Global Club of Leaders - an excellent occasion for meeting with like-minded people, searching for new partners and clients - will join business, healthcare, education and scientific leaders from around the world to discuss modern management methods and concepts of leadership, the role of personalities in institutions achievements and presentations of successful management experience.

The program will continue with a national dinner and a visit to the colorful flamenco show which strengthen business ties and provide an excellent opportunity to continue mutually beneficial communication in an informal atmosphere while enjoying the cultural atmosphere of the Catalan capital.

The session will be attended by owners of prominent regional companies, successful and innovative top managers, representatives of national scientific, medical and cultural elites.

Destination

The mix of rich history and modern culture makes Barcelona one of the most popular destinations for visits. In the center of European diversity, as well as a convenient transport interchange, Barcelona is an ideal place for international congresses and meetings. With stunning architecture, bars, restaurants and entertainment the city offers pastime for all tastes.

Countless options are available to satisfy the most refined tastes: Barcelona is famous for its magnificent shopping areas, sports grounds and world-class restaurants.
