Bowery Gallery to Host the First Art Nu Photo Exhibition

On April 6, 2020, Bowery Gallery will hold the opening day of the first Art Nu exhibition that features dozens of erotic photographs from all over the world.

Art pieces by Helmut Newton, Robert Mapplethorpe, David Seidner and other prominent photographers from the United States, Europe, Russia and Japan will be borrowed from private collections to illustrate the perception of sensuality in various cultures. The private viewing on the opening day is by invitation only.

Visitors will have a unique opportunity to expand their knowledge of modern art by getting acquainted with the exhibits that present aesthetics of sexuality, eroticism and physical beauty – the concepts that along with pornography are products of culture. Objectification of female body as an acute social issue further confirms that understanding of sensuality is greatly affected by particular culture codes. Therefore, the Bowery Gallery invites anybody who wants to find clues to different perceptions to its Art Nu exhibition.

European and Asian artworks will be presented by Balthus, Bill Brandt, Lucien Clergue, Nobuyoshi Araki and Alina Lebedeva. All pieces are provided for demonstration purposes only and will not be sold.

The exhibition will be open to general public from April 7 to June 20, 2020, at the Bowery Gallery, located on 530 West 25th st, Chelsea, New York, NY.

The opening hours are Monday-Saturday, 10 a.m. – 7 p.m

The entrance is free of charge.

Age restrictions: 16+
