

JAGGAER ONE PLATFORM - Digital Transformation by JAGGAER Company presented

In February 2019, the JAGGAER Company announced a new JAGGAER ONE Platform.

It has been in development for over 15 months and provides to consumers the main purpose to meet the requirements of multiple industries in several markets with the ability to control 100%. The service is oriented on customer first of all, so you need only to start activation of the platform and work with it. This upgrade will absolutely change the interactive user experience. Jaggaer said the new offering is built on service-oriented architecture (SOA) that allows for other solutions to be added on. Summarizing, we can emphasize this kind of newest upgrade is the next stage in the evolution of company and is the most absolute business-to-business spend management offering available in the world.

JAGGAER ONE is created with custom-oriented anatomy that makes suitable a plug-and-play settings for clients to carry out of the best kind of solutions sustaining spend management strategies for organizations at all their levels.

JAGGAER ONE produces the data management, third-party integrations, identity management, and analytics all activities and solutions.

Jaggaer Advantage is the continuation of the BravoSolution Advantage platform, with strengths in sourcing, analytics and contract management.

Jaggaer Indirect has SciQuest (and historical SciQuest acquisitions such as Upside) as its ancestor and is a source-to-pay offering focusing on clients for whom “indirect spend” is key.

Jaggaer Direct is the continuation of the Pool4Tool platform, aimed squarely at manufacturing P2P clients.

JAGGAER solutions reduce spending and all the risk, providing transparency, control and flexibility on a platform that comprises innovation with any business.

“Jaggaer ONE represents the next stage in the evolution of our company and is the most complete business-to-business spend management offering available globally,” - said Jaggaer CEO Robert Bonavito about the innovation.

Oversimplification is that the platform automates all processes, thus it manages spends, but the entrepreneurs their companies. The innovative product is the only solution, that is designed to do specific tasks of the industry through the development of roadmaps. The provided services for adaptation and catalog activation “under the key”, release the cooperation with providers on several purchasing scripts. Usefulness in the overall business strategy, search and purchase functions become the determining factors for business efficiency. The last change of the platform application form is the insertion of the procurement function as an actual value for the organization for the future in a broad sense. With the expansion of procurement, it will be possible to track further digital innovations.
