🔒 First to Review

This Panda Express is located inside FIU and, quite shockingly, the best Panda Express I've been to.

The lines are long - very long. But fear not! I have never waited long at all! The line actually sometimes moves so incredibly quickly that I don't even have time to think about what I want to order. In and out in a jiffy - it's great!

Also, the food is always so hot and fresh. Tastes amazing. I have been to other Panda Express locations and the food is far from fresh and is questionable. But that's definitely not the case here.

People who work here are friendly and really great at taking care of this new hot spot on campus. This is my new favorite go-to place!

Let's be real! Besides POLLO this is the best place to eat on campus! You get what you order and the portion sizes are ALOT for one person! My boyfriend and I will order one combo order of the Orange Chicken with noodles and add extra meat and we are stuffed!!! It's like a mountain of food for around $10-12! You can't beat that!

We also get the Shang Hi Beef! So yummy with the mushrooms!
The food has always been super fresh and I have never had any complains! It might just be the best Panda Express location! Plus the service is super fast so if you are in between classes you won't waste any time!
You also have the option of the veggies which is great when you are trying to cut down because it's so many steamed veggies with a protein of your choice! Definitely my go to place to eat on campus besides pollo.

This Panda is inside the Mango building at Florida International University. They have some of the longest lines ever! I've honestly never seen lines at a Panda Express like these. But they get you through so quickly it's like an assembly line. They have two lines which helps alleviate the flow of people coming in. The food has always been hot and fresh. It's an open kitchen so you can see the cooks getting everything ready. I would recommend getting the plate with chow mein, orange chicken, and grilled teriyaki chicken. Yum!!!!

Everything is really good though! The people there have always been nice as well. I've never had a bad experience here. They are doing something right at this location. They are smack between a Starbucks and Taco Bell on the bottom floor of Mango. If you've never had Panda you should try it here first! I think this Panda makes it the way it's meant to be.

Step 2: Draw Conclusions

I wanted to go to the Panda Express at FIU since I found out about it. Based on provided reviews above and other reviews, I made a conclusion that Panda Express is a place with a quick service and workers are able to manage the long line in a short period of time.

“Lines can be long from the hours of 12p-2p but trust me it moves fast.” - Ji W.

Speed of service does not influence the quality, though, because the staff is predominantly nice and ready to provide assistance if needed. Food in this restaurant is generally fresh, tasty and hot.

“Staff is friendly, the food is hot and fresh. Good place for lunch” - Vanessa G.

“They make good recommendations for the customers. They know their menu and give you samples if you have not tried an item.”

What adds to the good experience in Panda Express is big portions of food for the affordable price. Moreover, a lot of customers mark this restaurant as one of their campus favorites and as the best of the whole franchise they have ever been to before.

“It might just be the best Panda Express location!” - Farah G.

Taking these reviews into account, I can now confidently look forward for visiting Panda Express knowing that: I will not have to wait for too long, because lines move fast. Staff is not only nice, but also helpful; the food is fresh, hot and delicious, and I will not have to worry about leaving this place being not full enough: portions are big, however it will not strike at my finances, because the pricing is affordable for a student like me.

Step 3: Comment

From synthesizing these reviews, I can learn to mash up a lot of ideas into one idea, improved by adding another opinion – mine. This practice shows the difference between summary and synthesis, hence, it makes it easier to understand what the requirements are and how to create a great synthesis. It also helps to understand the importance of drawing conclusions from the evidence, rather than just listing evidence: Making conclusions from the evidence will form your opinion, while just listing them will not. It also showed that synthesis can be used in everyday life: like considering whether you should visit a restaurant or not.
