

■ Hello! My name is Bekmirza, and I'm a UX/UI Designer passionate about creating modern, clean, and user-friendly interfaces. I have experience working with Figma and building design systems that balance business goals with usability and visual appeal. I'm especially interested in SaaS products and enjoy transforming complex systems into intuitive user experiences. I focus on consistency, clarity, and improving user flows through thoughtful design decisions. ■ Key skills: • UX/UI Design for web platforms • Prototyping and wireframing in Figma • Creating and maintaining design systems • Understanding B2B SaaS logic and structure • Data-driven approach to design improvement ■ Project example: TruckingTalent A U.S.-based SaaS platform that helps logistics companies connect with truck drivers across the country. The goal is to make the interface feel professional, trustworthy, and easy to navigate — enhancing both usability and conversion rates. ■ Goal: To continue growing as a Product Designer, working on meaningful digital products that make business processes smarter and more human-centered.
