I had the opportunity to work for myself and it was a great learning experience. One of the things that I enjoyed the most was being in control of the entire process, from purchasing materials to developing social networks. It was a lot of work, but it was incredibly rewarding. Through this experience, I gained a lot of soft skills by communicating with a variety of different people. It was a great way to learn how to navigate different personalities and work effectively with others. Overall, it was a challenging but fulfilling experience that taught me a lot about myself and my capabilities.
