

Is Select CBD Right for You?

Now more than ever the CBD (cannabidiol) industry is in an unprecedented period of growth. Offering the health benefits of the hemp plant without the THC, CBD products come in a variety of forms, from oils and balms to candies and gummies. With so many different CBD companies on the market, it can be difficult to know which companies are scams, and which are legitimate. In this article we will review one of the leading CBD brands, Select CBD, take a look at some of its products, and help you decide whether Select CBD is right for you.

Select CBD is a London based company that sells CBD vape pens. Known for its purity, potency, and great flavor, Select CBD has received many top industry awards for its products, including Oregon's Best High CBD Product by Leafly. Its products are derived from hemp and combined with essential oils, providing the consumer not only with a great experience, but with great flavor as well.

Best For

Studies have shown that CBD may help to reduce anxiety, pain, and inflammation, as well as insomnia. This study analyzed whether or not CBD reduces pain. The results of the study indicate that ““CBD influences different dimensions of the response of rats to a surgical incision.”, proving that CBD does affect the perception of pain. This study investigated how CBD might weaken the fear-response related to bad memories (like PTSD). The subjects of the study, 277 rats, were given a dose of CBD immediately after receiving a small electric shock. Those rats who received the CBD were found to spend less time frozen in fear when reintroduced to the context of the fearful event.

Pros /Cons

The pros of CBD products are that it is 100%, completely natural, produced within the U.S., and tested by third parties. The cons are that it has an untraditional ordering process and may not be able to be shipped to certain countries, as legality depends on government policy. Also, some users find it not potent enough for their tastes. To find out whether or not CBD products can be shipped to your country, follow the link to the country list here.

Conclusions

- Is Select CBD legitimate?
 - Select CBD is a legitimate company, offering quality control at all levels of production. Select CBD puts every vaporizer through 7 levels of quality control checks at their production facility. During this process, pens are locked away and cured for 24 hours before they head to into dispensaries to minimize mechanical failure and allow the oil extracts to fully saturate each wick.
- Is Select CBD FDA approved?
 - No. According to the FDA, products containing CBD are not yet approved. The FDA is still in the early process of researching CBD and whether or not it is safe for consumption, whether it be defined as a drug or a dietary supplement. For more information on the FDA approval process, follow the link here.

- Will Select CBD products show up on a drug test?
 - As is true with all hemp products, there is a possibility that use could cause a false positive result on a drug test. Everyone undergoing drug screening should use caution and understand the drug screening process before using CBD products. Luckily, urine drug screening for THC-COOH has very little cross-reactivity to non-psychoactive cannabinoids, such as CBD. This being said, even though Select CBD includes only CBD isolate, Select CBD is legally unable to confirm the outcome of any drug tests while using its products.
 - Consult your doctor and/or employer if this is a concern.
 - Find out more about CBD and drug tests here.

- How does Select CBD make you feel?
 - As previously stated, CBD is not psychoactive, so it will not provide the user with the same effects as does THC. However, Select CBD products do provide the consumer with a unique experience for any desired mood state, depending on the specific product. Each product is specifically tailored to produce the desired effect, be it relaxing, reviving, or stimulating.

- Where can I buy Select CBD?
 - As previously stated, Select CBD products are available for purchase in the U.S. and most European countries. Unfortunately, the possibility of shipment depends on the legality of CBD in each country, which is determined by each individual government. You may order Select CBD products on the website, here.
